LIDON MARATHON
The marathon is doomed. The bill putting such exhibitions out of existence is well on its way to enactment in the legislature. There will be conflicting emotions displayed at the funeral. Devotees of this form of amusement—and they run into the hundreds of thousands in the state—will be vehement in their grief, while the opponents will indulge in manifestations of joy.

ABOUT AMUSEMENTS

Personally I have never been a marathon fan, although I will confess to having been in attendance at several, due, however, to feminine coercion that could not be resisted. It so happened, as may be inferred from the preceding sentence that my companions were strong for the amusement. As a result I have sat on a hard bench,
very much loved, until four o'clock in the small and early hours fighting an overwhelming desire to woo Morpheus. While my seatmate was surcharged with thrills from watching the performance.

There are many angles to these marathons, walkathons, endura-thons, speedathons or any like exhibition of human endurance, and I have heard the subject very heatedly discussed on many occasions.
Regarding the utility of such arguments, I have sedulously refrained from participation in them, knowing whichever side I espoused I was certain to engender some bit of feeling. The fact of the matter is that I was indifferent, as the game of amusement is one which does not appeal to me. I concede to the other man or woman the right and privilege to choose his

Dirty Work
Suspected In
Frog Derby

ANGELS CAMP, May 18.—UP—Dirty work at the cross-country was suspected tonight as one of the leading entrants in the annual Cal-averas frog jumping contest disappeared on the eve of the finals scheduled for Sunday.

The missing leaper is "Mr. President," the property of Lieut. Governor George Hatfield of California. Hatfield was disconsolate, saying he never expects to see his frog again as he suspects cannibalistic tendencies on the part of "Chief Hagler," a frog from Catalina Island, N. C.

"Mr. President" was seen alive
shortly before "Chief Hagler" arrived and was placed in the same pond.
"I hope we find him," said Hatfield. "This is a promising youngster and with proper handling, should go far. I think this North Carolina leaper ate him up, but maybe he was taken suddenly ill and hopped off somewhere to erect."

England Asked
To Return To Catholic Fold

VATICAN CITY, May 18.—UP—
The Pope will make a plea to Protestant England to return to the fold of the Roman Catholic church
during the canonization ceremonies in St. Peter's tomorrow.

At the ceremony, two new saints will be added to the calendar of the church—the first from England to be canonized since the reformation. They are the Blessed, Thomas More and John Fisher, who were beheaded by King Henry VIII for refusing to recognize his spiritual authority and opposing his marriage to Anne Boleyn.

The Pope first will exalt the virtues of the two new saints and then he will urge England to return to the Roman church, making
"one flock under one shepherd" as visioned by Christ.

BRITISH WAR
VET HANGS
SELF IN SHED

A war that ended almost 17
years ago added another human life to its toll of death yesterday.

Harold Fitchett, 40, of Har-
is street, Rodeo, was found hanging before 1 o'clock in a shed in the rear of his home.
He had hanged himself with a light robe, tied to a rafter.
Death was due to strangulation.

HAD BEEN GASED
Fitchett, according to Deputy Coroner W. F. Drummey, had been in ill health for years as the result of his war experiences with a British Army regiment. During one of the campaigns in France,
he had been gassed. Despite constant treatment by physicians for the past sixteen or seventeen years, nothing could be done for him.

For some time Fitchett had been despondent. His health had forced him to retire from his position as superintendent at the California &
Hawaiian sugar refinery at Crockett.

FOUND BY WIFE
Yesterday morning his wife, Mrs.
Annie Fitchett left him at their home while she went on a shopping tour. She returned an hour later—at 12:45—and cooked luncheon. She called several times for her husband but received no answer. She started to search for him.

In the shed in the rear of the house the horrified woman found her husband. Because the

REDS BLAMED
BY SINCLAIR
FOR REVOLT

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—
In a riotous, tumultuous session of the End Poverty League convention here, Upton Sinclair, author, founder and prophet of the EPIC movement battled for the political life of his brain child.

The slender, gray-headed author and former socialist, who was defeated for governor on the Democratic ticket at the last election, shouted charges that communists were seeking to seize control of the movement.

WILD SCENE

Insurgents shouted, "Throw him out."
Sheridan Downey, fellow standard bearer with Sinclair and permanent chairman of the convention, beset this raving and threatened to throw the mallet at one shouting, roaring, red-faced revolter.

DOORS LOCKED

Doors to the convention were locked and guarded and only accredited delegates were admitted.
The row arose over acceptance of the report of the credentials committee. Decorum was completely

12 Killed
In Storms
And Flood

ALBUQUERQUE, May 18.—UP—Floods and tornadoes struck a score of communities in Oklahoma and Texas today, killing at least 12 persons and damaging property and crops to the extent of $2,500,000 or more.

AREA FLOODED

The floods and storm followed in the wake of several rains over the area which has been beset by dust storms and drought.

TORNADOES

Tornadoes from the overflood-
ed banks of the Red River west of here carried dead animals to their deaths.
EIGHT TORNADOES
One of the eight tornadoes that struck scattered Tex as communities and killed two people in the Weches community near Crockett,
Texas.

The dead and maiming which were regarded as dead by rescue workers were: Mrs. Claude Gowens, 60; Earl McAlpine, 40, her son-in-law, and Joe McAlpine, 10, his daughter, and five Negroes.

ANOTHER STORM

At Timpson, Texas, a tornado that struck late today killed two people
and injured four others.

Those killed at Timpson were J. T.
Phillips, 69, and his wife. Their bodies were found 100 yards from the wreckage of their home.

The dead in the Weches community tornado:
George Crenshaw, 70, Crockett,
and an unidentified Negro.

80 ARE HURT

A preliminary 80 persons were injured in the various tornadoes and wind storms in Texas. In the storm near Crockett 38 were hurt,
also of them critically.

Unofficial estimates of damage caused by the tornadoes in Texas

that state at $1,000,000. Flood damage in the Western Oklahoma area

HUGE SOVIET CRAFT TAKES
48 TO DEATH

MOSCOW, May 18.—UP—
The giant Soviet airliner, Maxim Gorki, one of the largest in the world, crashed after a collision in mid-air today, killing 48 persons.

It was the greatest heavier, than-air disaster in aviation history. More have been killed in dirigible accidents, but never a plane.

The great air liner, designed to carry 75 persons, was built at one of the triumphant achievements of Soviet Russia's great air fleet, designed to fly to remote parts of Russia and distributed by private aerial printing new:
the latest Soviet news and propaganda.

COLLIDED WITH PLANE

In today's fatal flight, the line collided with a smaller plane and exploded with tremendous force,
flying to pieces in mid-air.

The giant plane plunged to the ground a shattered mass after a small stunt plane had struck its wing.

Of the dead, 46 were crew or passengers of the Gorki and two the pilots of the pursuit plane.

HIT LINER

The collision occurred near the Moscow airport on the Leningrad highway.

The small plane dashed through the sky at high speed and hit the liner.

Bonus Friends, Foes
Are Sure Of Victory

WASHINGTON, May 18.—
UP—Patman bonus bill supporters claimed sufficient strength tonight to override veto of the inflationary measure despite President Roosevelt's decision to make a personal appeal to Congress to reject it.

Administration leaders challenged these claims and asserted they could sustain the President in the Senate.

VETO MESSAGE

Mr. Roosevelt carried a rough draft of his message when he boarded the yacht Sequoia at Quantico, Va., today. The White House predicted he would have it in final form when he returns tomorrow.

Although they knew it was futile, the House bonus steering committee arranged to keep an appointment with the President on Monday in hopes of winning him over.

the number of such accidents by means of a campaign of education through

U. S. Chamber Of Commerce Censured

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—UP—
United States Chamber of Commerce tonight was described as a "menace" to free public education in secondary schools at a meeting of the California Teachers Association.

H. W. Heyl, chairman of the committee on public relations declared the chamber, the California Taxpayers Association and other business organizations are conducting a well organized and well financed campaign to discredit free education above the eighth grade.

Already 42,000 schools have been closed in the East, dangerously curtailing the education of 3,500, 000 children, Heyl said.

RIOTING REPORTED

LONDON, May 18.—Serious rioting occurred in Munich today when organized bands of Nazis sought to prevent collections for the Catholic Church which had been authorized by the government, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch.

Spreckels, San Francisco and New York socialite, honeymooned tonight with her third husband, Franklin C. Clinton, San Francisco

son of the Spreckels sugar family and was married here today.

The honeymooners drove to San Francisco and plan a Southern California wedding trip.

Well, Anyhow It Would Have Been
A Swell Racket

Richmond police yesterday were seeking Paul Miller, who said he lived in Petaluma.

Yesterday noon Miller got off a Richmond-San Rafael ferry here
and told attendants he had injured
his back in a fall, and asked them to call the Wilson and Kratzer ambulance. Miller told the ambulance driver and attendant that he had had his back X-rayed at Petaluma and was going to Sacramento for hospital treatment. He showed an insurance card, saying that the ambulance bill would be paid by his insurance company. He was then taken to a local hospital.

Miller, according to hospital attendants, kept pleading with doctors and nurses to give him something to relieve his pain. Alarmed by the man's symptoms, they took him to the X-ray rooms to survey his injuries. Plates revealed that he had not been injured, doctors said.

It was then discovered, doctors say, that the man was a dope addict and was working a racket in an effort to get a free portion of the narcotics his nerves were demanding. He was ousted from the hospital and police were called. So far, no trace of him has been found.

Rebel Townsend
Clubs Enjoined

DENVER, Colo., May 18.—UP—Dr. F. E. Townsend, sponsor of the Townsend old age pension plan, won the first round today in his $250,000 damage and injunction suit against the Colorado Townsend Clubs Inc., which have broken
from his national organization.

A temporary injunction was granted Dr. Townsend by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals which will prevent so-called rebel clubs from using the name Townsend.

Judge Phillips held that the issue
was the use of the Townsend name
and whether its unauthorized use would deceive the public.

Sylvia's King,
Happy Laddie To

Happy Laddie, a 2-year-old colt, will compete with Sylvia's King, a 3-year-old colt, in a special match race next Tuesday night.

Having schooled in 28 1/2 seconds for the 200-yard mile course, Sylvia's King, valued at $7,500 by Mrs. S. L. Ellis, is in top condition for Tuesday's important race.

Happy Laddie, sired by the great My Laddie, and holder of numerous American racing records, has been rested a month by owner Oliver Jones, and is in good shape for the grueling 200-yard speed test.

El Cerrito officials consider tomorrow's three-day match one of the best ever presented on the Pacific Coast, and anticipate a capacity crowd.

tennis champion, speeded eastward
tonight enroute to Wimbledon England, to start a comeback she hopes will retrieve her lost net laurels.

Suddenly convinced that she once more was in condition to enter championship tennis play after two years on the sidelines, Mrs. Moody left her San Francisco home last night.

In a telegram dispatched from Carlin, Nev., to the United Press
San Francisco office, she outlined the pleasure with which she anticipates a return to the courts.

"Decided at 2 o'clock and took the train that evening," she disclosed in her message, filed during a short stopover.

"I am feeling very well. My plans beyond the English tennis season are undecided as yet. I am looking forward to playing with interest.
This year should be one of the best at Wimbledon because of the King's jubilee and the large international entry of Davis Cup stars."

Mrs. Moody is aboard the overland limited, transcontinental train on which Count and Countess Court Hawley's 2-revolution are enroute to New York on their honeymoon. The countess is the former Princess Barbara, Hatten, Midway, Woolworth heiress, who married her fifth husband shortly after being divorced at Reno, Nev., from Prince Alexis Mdivani, youngest of the marrying Georgian princes.

Mrs. Moody's reentry into tournament play holds dramatic potentialities. If she performs as many San Francisco tennis experts expect, she probably will be pitted against Helen Jacobs, ranking American woman player, who was the only player, with the exception of Miss Suzanne Lenglen of France,
to defeat the American court queen,
after Helen reached her peak.

TROJANS BEAT
CAL, STANFORD
TO WIN MEET

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, May 18.—The mighty Trojans from U. S. C. donned their bob nail hood today to trample the chin hoppers of California, Stanford and U. C. L. A. in the California Intercollegiate track and field meet here this afternoon and records fell in the broad jump, shot put and high hurdles.

The scores were: U. S. C. 68 5-6, California 40 1-6, Stanford 36, and U. C. L. A. 19.

Three new meet records were hung up during the afternoon with better than average times and distances recorded in most events.

Sammy Klopstock, blond Stanford hurdler, raced over the 120-yard high barriers in 14.5 seconds to crack the meet record held by Pills of U. S. C. at 13.9. Cope of U. S. C. placed second and Moore of California third.

In the broad jump, Al Olson of U. S. C. made the best leap of his career to set a new meet mark at 25 feet 7 3/4 inches. Jim Reynolds, Stanford, cracked the shot put record with a toss of 51 feet 5 7/8 inches.

Expected record breaking performances in the pole vault failed to develop as Earl Meadows, U. S. C. star, who has made 14 feet 3 5/8 inches this year, was stopped at 13 feet 10.

A 12 mile wind blowing into the faces of the runners slowed times in both sprints. George Anderson, University of California star, raced to victory in both dashes, winning the 100 in 9.7 seconds and the 220 in 21.8.

In the 100 Anderson got off to a perfect start and led the entire distance to defeat Draper of U. S. C., who finished three yards behind for second place.

Anderson toyed with his field in the 220, and was running in fourth place at the 150 yard mark. With 60 yards to go he opened his usual blazing finish to win by a yard, with Draper again in second place.

The 220 yard low hurdles furnished another upset, with Gil Strothers of U. S. C. nosing out Dell Plashback of California for first place. Fishback, Klopstock and Moore finished within inches of each other, with Klopstock awarded the third place.

In the high jump Paul Jacques and Hugh Thompson of California and Randall Spicer, U. S. C., all

Coast League Is Deep In The Red

SACRAMENTO, May 18.—UP—

Drastic measures to save the Pacific Coast League from "folding up" before the summer is ended, were advocated today by Earl McNelly, owner of the Sacramento Club.

Taking the condition of his club as indicative of the situation elsewhere in the league, he asked Hyland Haggerty, president of the PCL, to call a meeting of league directors to consider reduced salaries and cheaper admission prices.

McNelly claimed the League has been going in the red since the opening of the season.

Veteran Calls
Another Bonus
Capital March

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—Royce

W. Robertson, disabled veteran and leader of the California delegation of "bonus marchers" to Washington in 1932, today called on ex-soldiers to mobilize in another trek to the nation's capital.

Robertson declared the veterans would leave for Washington on freight trains as soon as President Roosevelt vetoes the Patman bonus bill.

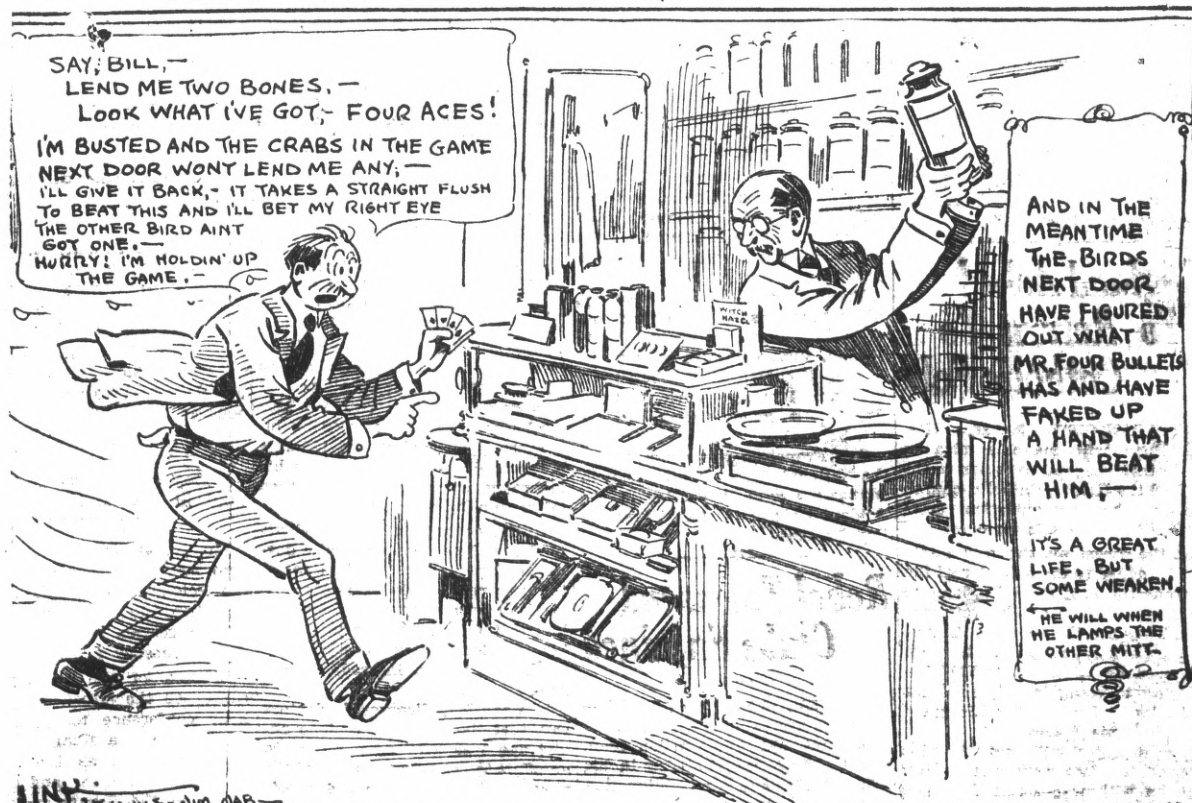

"The army," he said, would remain there "until the bonus is paid and we won't disband this time."

He said the local unit would board freight trains for Sacramento, there to join the northern state contingent.

"This time," Robertson went on, "there will be no autos, no women and no children. Every veteran who took part in the 1932 trek, in which I reached Washington with 199 California marchers, has been notified to try again."

Robertson said 5,000 veterans would march.

REDS BLAMED BY SINCLAIR FOR REVOLT

zone; the convention was out of control.

BLAMED-REDS

At this minute, Sinclair strode from the wings. The delegates quivered down to listen.

"Communists are here," he shouted, his figure quivering and his face pointing accusingly at the convention. "They are here for the same purpose they are at every meeting of Folks, Democrats or labor organizations. They are here to cause dissension."

WILD DISORDER

Several delegates leaped to their feet, shouting "You're wrong!" The cry of "throw him out" went up.

Sinclair stuck forward his jaw pugnaciously, and he flushed angrily.

"You communists are here to break up the Episcopate!" Sinclair almost screamed above the din. "Throw the communists out!" came the roar from the Sinclairites.

Mrs. Roosevelt Opens Meet On Social Service

WASHINGTON, May 18.—U.P.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt opened the White House conference on social education today, presenting the assembled social workers with what she described as "an awfully tall order."

She charged them with responsibility for aiding the nation in eliminating conditions which breed criminals.

"I know that is an awfully tall order," she said, "but I hope this is going to be a group from which a real working program can come, not just talk about social theories." She urged coordinated action to eliminate bad housing, provide adequate recreational facilities, vocational education, and aid youth during school years.

More Items Are Put Into Budget

SACRAMENTO, May 18.—U.P.—A long session of the ways and means committee today resulted in the addition of $1,229,000 to the governor's $300,000,000 budget.

This group added $1,000,000 for Sacramento-San Joaquin flood control which Merriam had not included. An additional $200,000 was added for legislative printing, $10,000 for the legislative council bureau and $10,000 of the Second District Court of Appeals.

Members of the committee expect to meet early Monday to complete the budget and to have it through both houses by Wednesday.

The legislators turned seriously to thoughts of taxation and budget balancing as they prepared for the frantic rush which will accompany the closing part of the 51st session.

Although legislative pay stops next Wednesday, there was little hope of the lawmakers concluding their work before June 1.

STAMP CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

On Thursday, May 16, the Fairmont school Stamp Club held its fourth meeting with an enrollment of 36, under the guidance and instruction of Norman Shepard.

The club greeted with great enthusiasm the announcement that Mr. Sheppard was returning to the air. He will be heard every Sunday morning at 9:15 on KROW in a weekly talk entitled "Fifteen Minutes With Stamp Collectors."

This radio stamp club was originally organized by Mr. Sheppard in 1929. Its object is to help the boys of the group.

that the age limit was from six to sixty and that the only qualifications for membership are interest and sincerity, emphasizing, however, that it is primarily for the novice in philately. There is no cost and few stamps will be taken at each broadcast.

He stressed the educational value of stamp collecting and said "Intelligent collecting is bound to lead the collector on such diversified subjects as geography, progress in aviation, world affairs and even natural history for many of the stamps issued depict the flora and fauna and the native life and customs of the lands from which they come. The psychology of a people is printed on their stamps."

The Fairmont School Stamp Club of El Cerrito will be branch No. 1 of the Radio Stamp Club and is sponsored by Dora Parker Hewitt, playground supervisor with the Richmond school district recreational department.

FIRE GROUP GIRLS PLAN MANY EVENTS

Mrs. Hewitt is also guardian of the flourishing Lewadita Camp Fire Group of El Cerrito. At the meeting of the group on Friday, May 17, their national charter was received and membership card for the year from national headquarters. Although this group has only been in existence less than three months, they have been very active. Among other things, they have held a very successful whist party for the parents and adult friends, an educational field trip to the aquarium and museum at Golden Gate Park, a number of "jolly jaunts" for swimming and wienie roasting.

Each girl in the group is making a symbolic Indian bead head band. Many already completed show originality and beauty in design. As a reward for their good work, Mrs. Hewitt took the girls to the Chabot Observatory on Saturday, May 18, where Dr. Henry M. Hyde, of the Astronomical Society of the Pacific, showed them, through the big telescope, the sun spots and the rising of Venus. After a box supper in the observatory garden, the girls were shown by Dr. Hyde the glories of the stars and the many wonders of the heavens. Mrs. Hewitt is planning a similar trip for the boys of her playground.

On May 21 the Lewadita group will take part in a Grand Council Fire at the Greek Theater on the campus of the University of California with thousands of other East Bay Camp Fire Girls. There are tentative plans afoot for a quilting bee to supply prizes for another whist party in the near future to raise funds for a summer vacation for the group.

Dust Storms Believed the Cause of Increased Diseases of the Nose, Throat and Bronchial Areas

THE peculiar dust storms of these recent days have been attributed to many causes, principally drought and the subsequent soil erosion.

Some persons insist they are an act of retribution on the part of Providence punishing us for killing our stock and turning them all over to our crops. One morning paper carries a statement that they are the results of the World War and its demands.

upon the natural resources of the country.

In 1880 my father went to Kansas in March with an eye to business, but after two weeks returned because the sand storms in that mid-west area nearly choked him. He said the soil was too loose and the winds too high.

The fact remains that the soil is so dry over the Great Plains states that the winds blow the light soil from the top and it is being carried all over the eastern part of the country. Besides causing a great deal of work and distress to the anxious housewife, who wants to keep the dust off her floors and furniture, it is hampering industry because the fine particles of sand penetrate every part of the factories. It gets into machine bearings.

One night, last fall, I walked into a group of young men and announced that it was raining "mud." They laughed at me and insisted they had heard of it raining frogs, toads, fish and snakes, but never mud. Since then, they have had ample opportunity to see it raining mud, and our automobiles, windows and the outside of our houses are literally plastered with it. Our District Attorney stopped me on the street this morning, and asked what the results of the dust storms would be on the health of the people. I assured him that I could tell him. I know that the medical profession has been uneasy about the possible effects.

We have seen an unusual number of nose, throat and lung conditions that did not fit the usual descriptions. Many doctors have said to me, "Do you see patients, who seem to have a complication of disease germs, cold and bronchial conditions?"

I have seen them, and my only explanation is that this dust-laden atmosphere has caused a great deal of excessive irritation of the mucous membranes of the eyes, nose, throat and bronchial tubes. A nose specialist remarked a few days ago that he had never seen so much serious nosebleeds as we were having in the last few months.

As a usual thing the air-borne diseases are not very common. But that I mean that generally diseases are only carried a short distance, but it seems this dust-laden atmosphere carries many disease germs with it, which are necessarily breathed in with the dust.

We are told that in many places the soil is blown away to the depth of an inch or two and even more. It is easy to see that this could be contaminated by a vast number of disease germs that had been deposited in the soil from the natural discharges of a great many people.

True, most bacteria do not thrive well in the soil or in the sunshine, but water has been scarce in these districts. The wells have been low, many old abandoned springs have been brought into use, and many are disease laden. This can be carried in the dust which is deposited in our drinking water and on our food, besides being breathed in with the dust.

The dust irritates the delicate membranes of the nasal sinuses, throat and bronchial tubes, and produces a raw, inflamed area which furnishes a beautiful ground for the growth of disease germs. In some areas persons are compelled to cover their nose and mouth with gauze in order to breathe.

That is all we can do to prevent sickness from the dust, if any irritation is caused in these parts, great cleanliness and necessary disinfection is necessary.

Concerning Question
Dr. Chrisman offers readers the privilege of addressing questions to him care of the paper. He will answer questions of general interest in his regular daily column on Tuesday.

Guide to Charm

SCHOOLGIRL CAN BE 'DIFFERENT' BY HAIR CHANGE

By JACQUELINE HUNT

EVERY girl has said at some time or other, "I wish I could be different." But did you ever stop to think just what you mean by that? You want your complexion to be as clear and fair as that of your best girl friend. If the girls in your class are wearing leather jackets, then you, too, must have a leather jacket. Yet you really do want to be different—from your everyday self.

Being different is surprisingly easy when you are still young and pretty with all of the fresh, vivacious charm of youth. Every time you wash your hair you can be an entirely different kind of person. If you want to be, you can look different, and you can wear different kinds of clothes and apply your make-up to play up to the coiffure you choose.

Have your hair an in-between length, the longest hair at the back of your neck, about two and one-half inches long, and that all over your head thinned and shingled enough to adapt itself to almost any hair style.

Next you'll need a certain amount of curl. If your hair is naturally curly you should be thankful, but remember that hair that has only a slight curl can often be trained to curl beautifully with the right care, and hair that is straight can sometimes be trained to wave and the ends to turn up if you brush faithfully enough and use a lotion to encourage it.

If the natural curl simply does not exist in your hair, then perhaps you can persuade your mother to let you have a permanent wave, or you can save the quarters from your allowance until you have enough to buy yourself a really good one. Remember to choose an operator who you know has given good waves. Insist on a test curl and do not be afraid to tell the operator what you want your hair to look like afterward.

For short hair the croquinoile wind gives ringlets over your head. With this type of curl, you can wear your hair tousled and curled all over. Or you can smooth it down or back into streamlined waves with only the ends curling up like little ducks' tails. On other occasions you can brush your hair until it shines and pull it down all around until it is snug up to and showing over a trace of the wave showing. Clip it into place and then curl the ends into soft little sausage rolls. This is a specially nice coiffure for a young girl.

When you wish to be sophisticated, part your hair high on the side and brush it off your temples. Have the first wave wide and smooth, then make sculptured curls beginning in front of your ear and running up to the crown of your head. Curl the back with ringlets from your hair line up to and showing over the crown of your head. Use pretty clips in your hair or wear earrings to complete the picture.

Charles Richard Gay's Accession as Stock Exchange Leader Marks Democratic Trend

THE dethronement of Richard Whitney as president of the New York Stock Exchange has been hailed in many quarters as a triumph for the New Deal. Charles Richard Gay, slated to succeed Whitney on May 13, is described as one of the younger men who have long opposed the former president and his association with the House of Morgan (his brother is one of the partners).

Mr. Gay is fifty-nine years old, and a commoner of the Brooklyn variety, having been born in that New York borough and having received all his schooling there. As he ascends to his new place of duty, the nation's eyes fasten upon him, and through the "posse mind" runs the thought: "What kind of man is he?"

One of the answers follows: He is a $3-a-week office boy who built his personal bank account as a commission broker, and as a commission broker, he is a $2-a-week office boy who built his personal bank account as a commission broker, and as a commission broker, he is a $2-a-week office boy who built his personal bank account as a commission broker.

QUESTION: "I bought one of the blackhead preparations that you advised for relieving clogged pores. However, I have lost the directions for using it. Can you tell me how this preparation should be used?"

Always, when buying a new preparation, read the directions carefully before removing the wrappers. Since I do not know which preparation you bought it is rather difficult for me to tell you how to use it.

If the preparation is composed of coarse, soft grains it is probably the kind that is used on your washcloth like soap, for scrubbing the skin. If the mixture is fine, more like talcum powder only grittier, it should be mixed to a soft paste with water or skin tonic and spread over the blackhead areas and allowed to dry. Remove by rinsing the skin with warm water.

Ring Molds Offer Opportunity For Attractive, Useful Dishes

By JUDITH WILSON

PERHAPS women like to be roundabout, or perhaps the even, round symmetry is pleasant to the eye, but it's a fact that there is something tempting about food that is served in a circle. Of course, most plates are round and thus food in a ring can be decoratively arranged on the dish.

Ring molds are very popular right now. They are not only attractive, but the answer to what to do with left-overs. Rings of fluffy rice might appear at the fustiest table, and you can put all sorts of delicious things inside of them, from fruit to meat or vegetables. The dainty left-overs can be combined in tasty sauces and served in a ring of rice that extends both the flavor and the amount.

Other foods are quite "at home" in rings. You can mold your spinach and fill the center with creamed sautéed mushrooms or creamed hard-cooked eggs. Served in this way it makes a good main dish for luncheon or supper.

Salad mixtures with a gelatine base are never lovelier than when chilled in a ring mold, turned out on a plate and garnished with tiny cups of lettuce filled with mayonnaise. Or the center may be filled with a salad mixture of a different kind.

For instance, a tomato jelly ring might be filled with a tempting crabmeat and celery salad. A fruit salad might have the center heaped with little balls of cream cheese, rolled in chopped nuts or paprika for color and flavor contrast.

Cookies or sandwiches are more popular when served in rounds and bananas are twice as good when simply sliced, than when you try to doll them up as candied slices or cut them into cubes. Try to figure out the psychology of "roundness" if you wish but don't forget to try these recipes:

rice. Heat together with one-half teaspoon salt, two cups milk and one-fourth cup sugar in a double boiler. Mix two tablespoons cornstarch with one-half cup cold milk and add to the hot mixture. Cook fifteen minutes. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs and turn into the ring mold that has been rinsed with cold water. Chill thoroughly and unmold onto a large platter.

If you like a "fancier" ring, simply boil one cup uncooked rice in two quarts salted water until tender, then allow it to fluff, by draining and steaming over hot water. Pack into the ring mold and let set a few minutes, then turn out on a plate.

1. Fill with creamed asparagus and garnish the mold with radish roses or sweet pickles.

2. Or use creamed chicken and garnish with fried mushrooms.

3. Fill the center of the rice ring or individual rings with curried chicken, lamb or shrimp and garnish with pieces of chutney.

Place extra mounds of the curried meat around the outside for extra servings and decoration.

4. Combine sliced canned peaches, red cherries and orange slices or any other favored fruit. Put in the center of the ring and serve with a thickened fruit juice sauce and whipped cream. If you wish the ring can be made slightly sweeter when used for a dessert.

MOTHER STEPS IN 'OCEAN' AND SPOILS THE FUN

New York — Spring clothing has made its appearance in earnest, so we have been looking around to pick up all the available style indicators.

An impression of the tremendous variety of military is easily observed in the models sketched on this observation tour. Hats big and little, down-in-front and abruptly off-the-face, and in straws and fabrics, are the rule.

In the circle at left, the wide-brim, flared off the face in straw, with veiled forehead; the down-in-front also in straw with twin gardenias, suggesting links, marking the pinched brim; the halo off-the-face with scalloped edge, done in straw and felt. Two versions of the very extreme tiny hat in white starched peasant linen, with mesh veil draped around the bandeau and small-flower trim on the sides.

The two cape ensembles at left were fashionable exponents of the fur cape ensemble in black, the standing figure was especially striking in black woolen for the dress with green glass buttons, Persian lamb cape and black felt hat with a black and green pom-pom, and veiled studded with large chenille dots suggesting pom-poms. The other costume showed a black broadcloth cape with starched linen for the collar and front edges; the hat was black satin draped in baby bonnet suggestion.

Below, another view of the off-the-face hat; the small cuffed turban with red ribbon choux; and the pill box with flower trim.

The Case of a Girl Who Has Been Going With One Man Three Years—And No Marriage

A SPOILED child is inclined to think that he can get "away with anything," he happens to want. He should not be allowed to spoil the chances of a girl if he does not himself happen to be a "man."

Three years is a long time to give to a man who has no intention of marrying. If there is no engagement and no girl should permit a man to monopolize her time and attention for such a long duration.

"Dear Mrs. Martin: I have gone with a young man for the past three years. During this time the subject of marriage was never mentioned until just the last six months. I was away from him five months prior to this and he kept writing and insisting that I come back so we could be married. I returned and now the subject hasn't been mentioned for quite some time. He thinks we are too young, and haven't a thing to be married on."

I am very much in love with him, but neither family approves of the match. At times it seems that we get on each other's nerves considerably and quarrel quite a lot. We are both near the age of 24. He is the only child in his family and appears very selfish, but at times I can overcome this easily. Would you suggest I quit dating him steadily? But if I do I fear that I will lose him. Personally, I would marry him in a minute.—Disappointed Sue."

YOUR position is not an enviable one. Since your young man has written you of marriage there is no reason why you should not bring the subject up and find out just what his ideas are. Twenty-four is not too young for a girl to marry. Whatever objection your respective families may have to the match, it can hardly be because of the youth of either party. Perhaps twenty-four is too young for a man to marry, but since you are in love with you and spending his time with you, you certainly have every right to expect him to be preparing some sort of a home.

There are many young men and older men, too, who are willing to monopolize a girl's attention with no idea of marrying her. You must know that if you have any reason to suspect your man of being this type, don't waste a moment's time on him. Unless a man makes a statement of his intention NOT to marry a girl accepts his companionship on those terms. I think she is very foolish to waste her best years waiting for him.

I would be inclined to tell your young man that you had returned and had expected to marry him, so what? If he isn't in a position to marry are you in a position to know whether he is saying toward that end or not? If he doesn't want to marry, accept him as a friend, or dismiss him as you like, but be seen about with other men and try to take a little interest in them. If he doesn't help a girl's chances for marriage to be seen in the steady company of a man who has no matrimonial intentions. If he should marry some more enterprising girl you would be placed in a very awkward position. Better safeguard yourself against that.

Don't be afraid of losing him if he sees you accepting attention from other men. If he really does love you he will not retire and leave the field to them. It's not good policy to quit. A man thinks he can marry you any old time he feels like it. I would at least know whether I was engaged to this man or not, if I were in your place—and I don't mean a secret engagement either.

Short Cuts

If you are storing your fur coat at home during the summer, see that it is kept in a cool, dry place. Be sure that there are no hot water pipes running through the closet in which it is hung.

If you are looking for ways to entice the children to drink milk, how about a banana milk shake? For this take one fully ripe banana. Press it through a strainer with a spoon. Add one cup of cold milk and additional flavoring, if desired. Now shake well in a drink shaker or fruit jar and serve cold. The result is two medium-size drinks containing milk, which the children are sure to relish.

White organdie sets the keynote of this dressing table, with silver metal ribbon adding an exotic note in trimming both the table and the window curtains. The drum-like seat is of peach and brown satin.

Four Germans Are Saved From Death Sentence

KCNO, Lihuan's, May 18.—(U.P.)—A situation which threatened to become a grave issue between Germany and Lithuania was eased today when President Antanas Smetona commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence imposed on four German residents of Memel.

Widespread demonstrations have occurred in Germany against the sentences, on the ground the German minority in Memel—former German territory awarded to Lithuania after the war—was being discriminated against.

The condemned men were reported to have refused to ask for a pardon, contending that they were innocent. They were convicted of high treason in connection with a plot to separate Memel from Lithuania and restore it to Nazi Germany. They also were convicted of murdering a Nazi whom they suspected of betraying their separatist plans.

HELD IN MURDER

CHICAGO, May 18.—State's attorneys, police disclosed today, have held Thomas Anderson, 38, a railroad laborer, for two days in order to question him concerning the mysterious disappearance of Bobby Lee, a tavern entertainer, who has not been seen since May 1.

Subsidy Asked For Shipyards On The Coast

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(U.P.)—Representative Richard J. Welch (D., California), said today he was hopeful that Pacific Coast shipyards would be granted an 8 percent subsidy on construction activities under the Bland-Copeland ship subsidy bill.

Welch offered an amendment to the bill which would also Pacific shipyard, either a six or eight percent subsidy on loans made by the authority for construction of ships operating from Pacific Coast ports.

The amendment was endorsed by Congressional Representatives from Washington, Oregon and California. The proposed differential would make no difference in material costs over the Eastern shipyards.

SPROUL WARNS GRADUATES OF WORLD CRISIS

BERKELEY, May 18.—(U.P.)—Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president of the University of California, today warned 2070 ex-graduate seniors that prosperity of the nation cannot be advanced by "digressing a portion of its natural wealth" or by "bleeding the most provident of its citizens, nor by piling up debts of astronomical size to be paid, if at all, by its children and its children's children."

"Such desperate remedies may be necessary at times in dealing with crucial situations, but they don't afford a sound basis for permanent policy. You must find some better way or those who are less well-informed and even less happily situated will surely destroy the palace and encamp among the ruins."

"The world is on the anvil. Now smite it into shape," Sproul said in an address at the university's 72nd annual commencement exercises in the California Greek theater.

Warning of troublous times attending their entry into the business world, he admonished the graduates that they must aid in speeding the pace of the country's recovery.

"The first and most urgent responsibility that your generation must meet is the re-establishment of public confidence, confidence in one another and confidence in the state. Men will not move forward unless they have confidence in the honesty of their social, economic, financial and political order."

"A second demand upon your generation is that a just and ordered balance be found between production and consumption. Until that is found, no permanent recovery is possible from the distress which makes life a mockery for so many human beings today. "I haven't the slightest idea where the solution lies. But no nation can permanently advance its prosperity by destroying a portion of its natural wealth, by bleeding the most provident of its citizens, nor by piling up debts of astronomical size to be paid, if at all, by its children and its children's children."

"Such desperate remedies may be necessary at times in dealing with crucial situations, but they don't afford a sound basis for permanent policy. You must find some better way or those who are less well-informed and even less happily situated will surely destroy the palace and encamp among the ruins."
